on center rack of oven; roast for 40 minutes. Baste with pan juices. Bake for an additional 40 minutes and baste again. Roast 10-30 more minutes until internal temperature of 155° in the thickest part of the breast. (The temperature will increase to 165° after removing from the oven.)

2. Preheat oven to 225° and set oven rack in the center of the oven.
3. Fully unwrap prime rib, and place place pan on middle rack in oven.
4. Cook meat for 2 hours and 30 minutes for rare meat. Use a meat thermometer to make sure meat has reached an internal temperature of your choosing (see temperature guide below) before removing from the oven. If prime rib has not reached optimal temperature, set timer for an additional 5 minutes and then check again.

5. Take prime rib out of the oven once it has reached the correct temperature. Cover roast with a moistened dish towel, and let sit for 20 minutes before serving. This helps retain the juices inside of the prime rib.

6. Serve your prime rib with heated au jus sauce and chilled horseradish sauce.

To get an accurate internal temperature reading, stick your thermometer into the very center of the roast from the side.
